Confederate Relief Association.

LOUISVILLE KY., September 11, 1878. COMBADES AND PELLOW-CITIZENS-An associ ation for the relief of the yellow-fever sufferers has been organized in this city, under the ad-vice and control of ex-Confederate soldiers, and the undersigned are authorized to act as the Executive Committee of the association. The organization, thus formed, is designed to extend its operations throughout Kentucky. The presence of an unequaled plague in portions of the Southern States is known to every citizen of the State. For weeks the pestilence has been sweeping thousands of our fellow-beings into the grave, and consigning many thousand more to destitution. No such period of human suffering has transpired in the present century; and, in view of this fact, the benevolence of all portions of the country is cardially responding portions of the country is cordially responding to the needs of the afflicted. The people of Kentucky have thus far displayed commendable zeal in reliaving the wide-spread distress, but more is required. Under the circumstances it is a privilege and a duty specially incumbent all ex-Confederate soldiers and their friends in Kentucky to relieve the plague stricken districts to the utmost. The work to be accomplished is imperative. It is a work of Thristianity for humanity. The wants of the Christianity for humanity. The wants of the suffering are immediate and fearful, calling for the promptest response. There is strength in organization, and the undersigned therefore carnestly beseech you, Kentuckians and former comradas, to co-operate with them in supplying as rapidly as possible the necessities of the fover-stricken districts. We solicit the people of Kentucky to contribute whether much of Kentucky to contribute, whether much or little of their bounty, money, provisions, and delicacies, to be forwarded in a reliable way to the proper parties south ; and we arge the ex Confederate soldiers and their friends, wherever located in Kentucky, to co-operate by individ-ual effort and through local organizations with the association which we have the honor to repwhile their sons are taught to be good hus-band-men
